This model is not really complex. The head spikes can offer some trouble as well as the hands, but even the trouble parts are really simple. Start the model by the spikes. Add them to piece 4 one by one following the numerical order. Build the face around it. Be carefull with the mouth, start by the top, working from the tip up, after the top is build, build the bottom and join it with the rest of the head. Start joining them by the bottom of the mouth and work around it.
Add the jewel after the head is built.

Be carefull with piece 5, you might have to trim a bit the tabs of pieces 1 - 4 in order for a perfect placement.

Start the arms by the fingers. Add the webbed details only after the wrist is placed. The webbed details can be a little tricky to join.
Put a little dop of glue on the sides of the pieces and hold them untill they are dry. Superglue would make this part easier.
Build the rest of the arms following the numbers. Add them as soon as they are built.

The feet are simpler than the hands.
Build the top of the toes first and than build the bottom of the toes. The way of gluing the webbed details is the same of the hands. Add the nails before the webbed details. Build the legs up and add them to the built part, but add both at the same time, starting at the front of piece 37 and work one tab of each leg at a time untill they are both joined. Add piece 58 only after.
